Part III DETAILED ACTION

Notice to Applicant(s)

This application has been examined. Claims 1-18 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. § 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being anticipated by Reneris patent number 5,903,894 referred hereinafter "Reneris".

As for claims 1 and 7, Reneris teaches a computer implemented method for accessing data, comprising:

receiving a first request to access data associated with a PCI device (see figures 3A-3B and column 11 line 60 to column 12 line 54 and column 6 lines 15-36, wherein computer system 5 starts at step 305 where the BIOS 17 configuring for PCI devices coupling on the PCI bus 18, the configuration is directed to a system for controlling and identifying controllable hardware devices connections between the devices using a hierarchical data structure (HDS 40). The HDS 40 stores information about the computer system and devices with the computer and is used as a reference by software modules, such as an operating system. Wherein the first request is when the HDS identified a PCI device on the PCI bus 18), the first request being received at a system for maintaining a namespace containing a plurality of software objects describing hardware devices associated with a computer system (see figures 3A-3B and column 12 lines 42-55), identify the first request to access the data as being associated with a defined operation region associated with the PCI device (see figures 3A-3B and column 12 lines 9-12), passing the first request to a provider registered to handle access to the PCI device, the process provider being programmed to resolve and maintain addressing information for the PCI device (see figures 3A-3B and column 12 lines 22-33, wherein the ACPI driver initializes the hardware control registers and I/O space).

As for claims 2-3, Reneris teaches receiving data returned from the provider (see figure 7, step 725); and passing the returned data to the requesting component (see figure 7 step 735).

As for claims 4 and 11, Reneris teaches wherein the defined operation region comprises a PCI BAR Target operation region of the configuration management system (see column 12 lines 42-55).

As for claim 5, Reneris teaches wherein the first request to access data associated with the PCI device comprises a command generated by firmware associated with the computer system (see column 9 lines 57-65).

As for claims 6 and 9, Reneris teaches wherein the command generated by the firmware comprises a control method request to access the data, the control method being one of the software objects within the namespace (see column 12 lines 50-55).

Art Unit: 2189

As for claim 10, Reneris teaches wherein the configuration management system comprises an Advanced Configuration and Power Interface system (see figure 1, ACPI 38).

As for claims 12-13, Reneris teaches wherein the definition block further includes executable instructions for creating a control method that, when executed temporarily use of the operation region and notify the configuration management system of a change in the availability of the operation region (see column 2 lines 29-38).

As for claims 14-18, Reneris teaches base address identifying an address space with which the effective address location resides (see figure 5 and column 15 lines 1-30).
